Radford, Va., Aug. 22.—Frank Price, a young man of 28, committed suicide yesterday at his house at Long's Shop, near this city. He was a graduate of the Virginia Agricultural and Mechanical College, and had taken a post-graduate course there. He was considered a bright man, and at the time of his sad death was preparing for the medical profession. He left a note saying he was tired of his, and was suffexing from a disease that must in a few years result in his death. Dressing himself in his best clothes he lay down upon his bed, folded his left hand across his cleet and, with his right, directed a ball into his right temple in such a manner that his right hand fell across his left when the pistol was fired.

The Clever Pitcher Gets $250 a Month and Expenses-Illness of Mrs. Dr. May. (Special)

[Special.]
PRIERSBURO, VA. August 22.—The negotiations which have been pending between Manager Seeley, of the Boston Club, and Willie Quaries, of this city, have resulted in the clever pitcher's engagement by the Champions. This morning Quaries received a telegram from Seeley offering him $250 a month and expenses. The offer was at once accepted and Petersburg will lose its foremost base-ball celebrity within the course of the next day or so. The Bostons will now have two Virginians on their active list—Nash and the Petersburg favorite.

Mrs. Dr. David F. May, of this city, is dangerously ill at the residence of her brother, Mr. James E. Smith, in Prince George, and a telegram received to-day stated that her life was despaired of.

OUR MICKLIST.

Dr. J. S. Daniel, of Richmond, arrived in the city last evening, making the trip by bicycle, and covering the distance in two and a-half hours. He left this morning for Pleasant Hill, N. C., and expects to make good time with his wheel.

The remains of Mrs. Robinson, wife of Transmaster Robinson, of Crewe, were brought to the city this afternoon and interred in Blandford Cemetery. OUR BICYCLIST.

Able Chairman. [The State.]

Next to having a strong ticket in the field, the most important individual in party affairs is the chairman, who is responsible for the conduct of the campaign. The Virginia Democrats have been very fortunate indeed during the past ten years to have able may in the position of charfortunate indeed during the past ten years in having able men in the position of chairman. The Hon. J. Taylor Ellyson, who has accepted the chairmanship for this campaign, is one of the best Democratic managers in Virginia. He has had more experience in this line than anybody in the State, and he feels confident of making our victory this year fully up to our recent standard.

ASHEVILLE, N. C., Aug. 22.—In the Superior Court this morning Judge R. F. Armfield announced that, after full consideration, he had come to the conclusion that the interests of justice did not require that Dr. R. H. Reeves and A. J. Lyman, the real prosecutors, should be made to pay the costs in the Glover embezzlement cases, inasmuch as counsel, learned in the law, had advised them that the transactions of which Glover was guilty amounted to embezzlement, and had counseled them to institute the prosecution. This terminates the criminal proceedings against Glover, but he may hereafter have his innings in a civil suit for damages.

the Blues' band, marched to the Union depot. Several members, who were unable to go on the trip, accompanied them to the station. When the boys arrived there quite a crowd had collected, and among them a number of ladies.

Major B. H. Richardson, the president of the Blues Association and Col. John Bell Bigger, another stand-by of the Blues, were of course among those who united their good wishes for an enjoyable trip. The members of the company had hoped to have both of these gentlemen with them on their journey, but Major Richardson has been in febic health for some time and did not dare to venture. Col. Bigger, who is always in for a good time, felt it very keenly, that two recent attacks of chills made it obligatory for him to stay at nome. The Colonel is almost certain of doing two things, he will go fishing and he will sit in the sun, whether it agrees with his constitution or not.

PULLED OUT.

PULLED OUT. It was half an hour behind train time, before the fast mail pulled out of the depot, but the boys were full of good humor. They occupied two cars, the members of the company one near the end, while the band took seats at the other end of the train. THE BOSTER.
